FINE WINES BY THE GLASS

Coravin is unique in that it enables us to serve you some incredible wines by the glass without pulling the cork. By doing so, the natural ageing process is not disturbed and leaves the wine protected from oxygen, and therefore in perfect condition.

COASTAL WHITES

Wines influenced by the sea have a real freshness and purity, making them the perfect partner to our local seafood. The soils are packed with fossilized shells which, when combined with the salty influence of the sea, helps to create wines of real character and mouth-watering acidity.

Greco, Cirò Bianco, Ippolito 1845 - Calabria Italy 34
 Cirò Bianco, made from the ancient native grape Greco Bianco, is a tribute to the Ionian Sea for which it calls home. Ippolito are masters of the craft and so they should be when you consider they are the oldest winery in Calabria (that's the toe!) This wine has that magical combination of crystalline salinity and bright tropical fruit. Think of a world class Gavi di Gavi that's had a Mediterranean makeover. Great option when dining Alfresco.

Piquepoul Terret, l'Arête de Thau - Languedoc France 37
 Piquepoul actually means 'lip stinger' in the local dialect due to the wine's firm acidity. The vineyards border the Thau lagoon which is home to some of France's finest Oysters & Mussels. So guess what we recommend drinking this little beauty with?

Sauvignon Blanc, Lomond Wines - Cape Agulhas South Africa 83
 South African Sauvignon is definitely not on everyone's radar, but it should be. The more premium coastal examples have a purity to them that New Zealand can only stand back and admire. Lomond are based down in Cape Agulhas, and they are influenced by not one but two Ocean's. This makes the wine taste more akin to French Sauvignon than NZ. Pure and natural, pronounced stone fruit and lime, with classic Agulhas minerality.

Malvazija, Kozlović - Istria Croatia 39
 On a clear day you can see straight across the Adriatic to St Mark's Square Venice from this vineyard, so it's definitely coastal. Its zesty, mineral rich, and has a lovely citrus peel character which combines well with the wine's natural saltiness. They love to grill fish in Croatia so it's no surprise this wine works so well with our menu.

Nautilus, Aged under Water, Foivos - Kefalonia Greece 41

Not only is the vineyard within 800m of the sea, the wine is also then aged under water. This wine is quite simply unbelievable and will taste like nothing you've ever experienced. If you could imagine drinking Alsace Muscat in a rock pool then you'll have a rough idea of style. In simpler terms imagine zesty marmalade, stony minerality, and wonderful salinity on the finish.

Vermentino, Alablu, Campo alle Comete - Tuscany Italy 47
 Yes we are in Tuscany and yes this is a white wine and it's a beauty. With a strong arm you could throw a stone into the Tyrrhenian Sea from these vineyards. Vermentino thrives in these coastal locations and really takes on a ripe lemon character that grilled fish thrives on. Lee's stirring gives this wine some added richness and texture which makes it very versatile with our food.

Albariño, O Con, Xosé Lois Sebio - Rias Baixas Spain 58
 Albarino is influenced by the sea but more so by the many estuaries and inlets of the region. At its best Albarino is wonderfully aromatic with layers of white peach but this wine has added complexity due to the use of old oak. So stylistically this wine is a mid-way point between Albarino and white Burgundy.

Assyrtiko, Clay, Gaia Wines - Santorini Greece 66
 Assyrtiko is without question one of the finest white wines in the world. Ancient vines grown on volcanic soil with extreme exposure to the Aegean sea helps give these wines a unique character. Yiannis from Gaia has taken this a stage further by macerating on the skins for seven days, and then ageing in clay spheres for four years. This results in a richly textured orange wine of dried tropical fruit and honeycomb but still holds onto a dry mineral finish.
